Important Note

Important -- International Sanctions: Iran is subject to comprehensive international sanctions, including from the United States (OFAC), the European Union, and other jurisdictions. These sanctions significantly affect the international moving and shipping industry. Movers, shippers, and individuals should consult legal counsel and verify sanctions compliance before arranging any shipment to or from Iran. Sanctions may restrict financial transactions, shipping routes, insurance availability, and the involvement of companies or individuals in certain jurisdictions. U.S.-based companies and U.S. persons are generally prohibited from engaging in transactions involving Iran without specific OFAC authorization.

Overview

Duty-Free Eligibility

Duty-free conditions (foreign citizens with work permit): Used household goods may be imported duty-free by foreigners entering Iran for employment who hold a valid work permit and resident permit. All goods must be used and in reasonable quantities.

Duty-free conditions (returning Iranian citizens): A person or family who has resided abroad for at least 12 months (the last 6 of which must be consecutive, without travel to Iran) may import a reasonable amount of used household and personal effects duty-free. The owner must be present at customs clearance. After entering Iran, the owner's domicile in the passport must be changed to Iran.

New items: Subject to duties and commercial taxes, and potentially required to be re-exported, as determined by customs authorities.

- Legal gifts with a total import duty value not exceeding approximately USD 80

Other restricted items:

- New items within household goods shipments (subject to duties and commercial taxes)
- Firearms and ammunition PERMIT REQUIRED
- Chinese medicines and printings (per VisaHQ)
- Short wave radios (per VisaHQ)
- Gambling tools (per VisaHQ)

Vehicles

Vehicle Documents

- Permit from the Ministry of Commerce
- Original bill of lading (OBL)
- Vehicle title or registration
- Proof of insurance

Specific Information

Diplomats and embassy employees only (duty-free): Only diplomats and embassy employees can import vehicles on a duty-free basis.

Non-diplomats: The import of motor vehicles by non-diplomats requires a special permit from the Ministry of Commerce. The owner must file the application directly. Vehicle import by private individuals is extremely difficult and subject to high duties and restrictions.

Pets

Requirements

- Veterinary health certificate (endorsed by the government veterinary authority in the origin country)
- Vaccination record (rabies + species-specific vaccinations)
- Authorization from an Iranian veterinary organization (required before entering the country)
- Consulate certification (per IAM guide, the health certificate must be issued by the consulate in the origin country)

Specific Information

No quarantine if all regulations are met. Non-compliant pets may be quarantined, returned, or euthanized at the importer's expense.

Import permit: Not required for accompanied pets entering from any country (per PetTravel). However, an authorization from an Iranian veterinary organization is required before entry.

Microchip: Recommended. A 15-digit ISO 11784/11785 compliant microchip is the most accepted form. All documents should reflect the microchip number.

Rabies vaccination: Required for all dogs and cats over 3 months of age. Must be administered at least 30 days before entry. Multi-year rabies vaccinations are not recognized unless administered within 12 months of import.

Rabies titer test: Not required to enter Iran from any country. However, Iran is classified as a high-rabies-risk country by the World Organisation for Animal Health (WOAH), so a titer test may be required for the pet to return to the country of origin.

Other vaccinations (dogs): Distemper, hepatitis, parvovirus, and leptospirosis.

Other vaccinations (cats): Feline viral rhinotracheitis, calicivirus, and panleukopenia.

Parasite treatments: Required. Must be administered by a licensed veterinarian in the country of origin.

Health certificate: Must be issued shortly before travel by a licensed veterinarian and endorsed by the government veterinary authority in the origin country. The IAM guide notes it must be issued by the consulate in the origin country.

No banned breeds: Iran does not publish a list of banned breeds.

Entry by air: Pets must enter via Tehran Imam Khomeini International Airport. Dogs and cats can arrive in-cabin or as checked baggage. PetTravel reports that pets may not be able to enter as air cargo; confirm with the airline and Iranian consulate before travel. Importers should inform veterinary officials in advance.

Birds, cats, and dogs: Per the IAM guide, all must be accompanied by a veterinary health certificate issued by the consulate in the origin country.

CDC high-rabies-risk country: Iran is on the U.S. CDC list of high-risk countries for dog rabies. Dogs entering the United States from Iran are subject to enhanced CDC import requirements. Owners planning to return a dog to the U.S. should prepare for these requirements before departure.

Common Mistakes

- Not obtaining authorization from an Iranian veterinary organization before entry
- Not having the health certificate certified by the Iranian consulate at origin
- Attempting to ship a pet as air cargo (may not be permitted)
- Not planning for CDC re-entry requirements when returning a dog to the U.S.

Sources Consulted

1. IAM Country Guide: Iran (September 25, 2017) -- primary source for document requirements (work permit, resident permit, embassy exemption letters), duty-free conditions (12 months abroad with 6 consecutive), shipment timing (4 months sea, 3 months air, 2 months returning citizens), customs registration system, vehicle import (diplomats only, Ministry of Commerce permit), pet consulate certification, restricted/prohibited items (alcohol, pork, firearms)
2. FIDI Global Alliance -- no dedicated Iran customs guide found (404)
3. VisaHQ Iran Customs -- duty-free personal allowances (reasonable tobacco/perfume, USD 80 gifts), comprehensive prohibited items list (alcohol, pork, short wave radios, gambling tools, fruit/vegetables, soil, birds), restricted items (plants, pets requiring certificates)

4. PetTravel.com Iran Pet Import Requirements (updated 2026) -- 6-step import process including microchip, vaccinations (rabies 30 days to 12 months, multi-year not recognized), rabies titer test not required, parasite treatments required, health certificate with Iranian veterinary organization authorization, no import permit for accompanied pets, no banned breeds, entry via Tehran Imam Khomeini Airport only, air cargo may not be permitted
5. CDC High-Risk Countries for Dog Rabies -- Iran confirmed on the list
6. Trade.gov -- no Iran country commercial guide (404)
7. Santander Trade -- no Iran customs page (404)
8. Hinterland Travel -- Iran customs page returned 503

Discrepancies

- Pet consulate certification: The IAM guide (2017) states the health certificate must be "issued by the Consulate in the origin country." PetTravel (2026) states the certificate must be endorsed by the government veterinary authority and that an "authorization from an Iranian veterinary organization is required before entering the country." Both requirements may apply simultaneously: the health certificate issued/endorsed by the origin country's veterinary authority, plus a separate authorization from an Iranian veterinary body. Confirm the exact procedure with the destination agent.
- Air cargo for pets: PetTravel notes "it has been reported to us that pets may not enter Iran as air cargo." The IAM guide states "pets may enter as accompanied baggage or cargo." This discrepancy may reflect a policy change since 2017. Confirm with the airline and Iranian consulate.

Unverified Items

- All specific duty rates, fees, and regulatory details could not be verified against Iranian government sources because all government websites are unreachable. The IAM guide (2017) remains the most detailed source available, supplemented by VisaHQ and PetTravel.
- The customs web-based registration system requirement (from the 2017 IAM guide) could not be confirmed as current. The system and process may have changed.
- Whether the 2-month shipment deadline for returning citizens (vs. 3-4 months for foreigners) is still in effect could not be independently verified.

- The practical impact of international sanctions on shipping routes, carriers willing to service Iran, and financial transaction processing is not covered in this guide but is the primary operational challenge for any move to Iran. The destination agent should be consulted on current feasibility.

Consignment Instructions

Recommended: Contact the destination agent to ensure all requirements have been met prior to import, especially for differences regarding air and sea shipments.

Sanctions compliance: Before arranging any shipment, verify that all parties (shipper, carrier, insurance provider, freight forwarder, destination agent) are able to legally handle the transaction under applicable sanctions regimes. This is the most significant operational consideration for moves to Iran.

Alcohol -- zero tolerance: Do not include any alcohol in any shipment to Iran. This includes wine, beer, and spirits. Alcohol is strictly prohibited under Iranian law and its presence in a shipment can cause the entire shipment to be seized and the owner to face legal consequences.

Customs registration: The importer must personally register in the Iranian web-based customs system. This cannot be done remotely and must be completed before customs clearance can proceed.

Port of entry: Tehran West Customs is the primary clearance point for diplomatic shipments. Sea cargo arrives at Bandar Abbas (the main commercial port) or other Iranian ports. Air cargo clears through Tehran Imam Khomeini International Airport.

Shipment timing varies by status: Foreign workers: 4 months (sea) / 3 months (air). Returning Iranians: 2 months. Missing these deadlines may result in loss of duty-free treatment.

Content restrictions: Iranian customs may inspect and confiscate any materials (books, media, publications, images) considered inconsistent with Islamic values or the country's national interests. Err on the side of caution with all media content.

Note: All Iranian government websites re-checked June 2026 and remain genuinely unreachable: IRICA (irica.ir), Ministry of Foreign Affairs (en.mfa.gov.ir), and Iranian Veterinary Organization (ivo.ir). Trade.gov does not maintain an Iran country commercial guide. These gaps reflect Iran's isolation under international sanctions.
